How to Read This Report

You don't need to know any astrology to read this report. A birth chart is a snapshot of the sky at the moment and place you were born: which zodiac sign each planet occupied, and which part of the sky (called a 'house') it sat in from your birthplace's point of view. Astrologers read planets as functions (how you love, think, act), signs as styles (how that function expresses itself), and houses as arenas (where in life it plays out). Everything that follows was calculated individually from your birth details — this is your sky, not a generic horoscope.

Your Chart

Your Rising Sign — Sagittarius

With Sagittarius rising, the first impression is openness — humor, candor, a sense that you're up for things. People find you refreshing because you say the thing everyone was circling. Your instinctive approach to life is exploratory: say yes, figure it out en route. It makes your life genuinely bigger than average; the discipline of finishing is the acquired skill.

Your Sun — Scorpio

Your Sun in Scorpio describes a self that doesn't do surface. You want the real version — of people, of situations, of yourself — and you have unusual stamina for the uncomfortable truths most people avoid. Loyalty, once given, runs deep. The edge: intensity can become control, and privacy can become a wall. This placement matures beautifully when you let a few trusted people see the workings, not just the finished front.

Your Moon — Leo

The Moon in Leo feels things dramatically and warmly. You need your emotions to be witnessed — not indulged, witnessed — and when the people you love take you seriously, you're one of the most generous emotional presences around. Pride is real here: being dismissed hurts more than being disagreed with. What steadies you is genuine appreciation and having something of your own to be proud of.

Your Elemental Balance

Counting your seven classical planets across the four elements: 3 in Fire, 3 in Air, 1 in Water. Your strongest element is Fire, which weights your chart toward initiative, enthusiasm, and the confidence to act. You have no classical planets in Earth — not a deficiency, but a muscle that develops through conscious practice rather than instinct: practicality, patience, and the ability to build things that last.

By modality, your chart leans Cardinal — your natural mode is starting things — leadership and initiation. Knowing your dominant mode explains a lot about where your energy goes effortlessly and which phases of a project you tend to hand off, avoid, or need structure for.

Mercury in Libra

Mercury governs how you think and communicate — the way you learn, decide, and explain. In Libra, this is expressed relationally and gracefully — tuned to fairness, partnership, and keeping things in proportion. Placed in your 10th house (Career & Reputation), it climbs into public view: career, reputation, and long-term ambition.

Venus in Libra

Venus governs how you love and what you value — your style of affection, pleasure, and aesthetics. In Libra, this is expressed relationally and gracefully — tuned to fairness, partnership, and keeping things in proportion. Placed in your 10th house (Career & Reputation), it climbs into public view: career, reputation, and long-term ambition.

Mars in Aries

Mars governs your drive and how you assert yourself — what energizes you and how you handle conflict. In Aries, this is expressed directly and at speed — instinct first, refinement later, with real courage when it counts. Placed in your 3rd house (Mind & Neighborhood), it shows up in how you speak, learn, and handle the everyday exchange of ideas.

Jupiter in Gemini

Jupiter governs where you grow and find opportunity — your sense of meaning, luck, and expansion. In Gemini, this is expressed through words, variety, and quick connections — agile, curious, allergic to monotony. Placed in your 6th house (Work & Health), it expresses itself through daily work, routines, and the way you take care of the machine of your life. This planet was retrograde at your birth — its themes tend to be processed inwardly first, and mature later and more thoroughly than average.

Saturn in Sagittarius

Saturn governs where you meet discipline and responsibility — the area of life that matures you through effort. In Sagittarius, this is expressed expansively and candidly — aimed at meaning, freedom, and the biggest honest version of the truth. Placed in your 1st house (Self & Presence), it shapes how you come across and colors your whole approach to life.

Uranus in Sagittarius

Uranus governs where you break patterns — your originality and need for freedom. In Sagittarius, this is expressed expansively and candidly — aimed at meaning, freedom, and the biggest honest version of the truth. Placed in your 1st house (Self & Presence), it shapes how you come across and colors your whole approach to life.

Neptune in Capricorn

Neptune governs your imagination and ideals — where boundaries blur and inspiration enters. In Capricorn, this is expressed patiently and strategically — built to last, measured in years, allergic to shortcuts. Placed in your 1st house (Self & Presence), it shapes how you come across and colors your whole approach to life.

Pluto in Scorpio

Pluto governs where you experience deep transformation — the slow, powerful rebuilding of a life area. In Scorpio, this is expressed intensely and privately — all or nothing, with deep focus and a low tolerance for the superficial. Placed in your 11th house (Community & Gains), it moves through friends, networks, and the future you're collectively building.

House by House

1st House — Self & Presence

This house governs identity, appearance, and how you begin things — the front door of the chart. The sign on this house's cusp is Sagittarius, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Sagittarius style — expressed expansively and candidly — aimed at meaning, freedom, and the biggest honest version of the truth. In your chart it holds Saturn, Uranus, Neptune — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of those planets described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

2nd House — Resources & Worth

This house governs money, possessions, skills, and the quieter question of what you believe you're worth. The sign on this house's cusp is Capricorn, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Capricorn style — expressed patiently and strategically — built to last, measured in years, allergic to shortcuts. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

3rd House — Mind & Neighborhood

This house governs communication, siblings, short journeys, and the daily traffic of ideas. The sign on this house's cusp is Aquarius, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Aquarius style — expressed independently and inventively — principled, systemic, and quietly unconventional. In your chart it holds Mars — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of that planet described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

4th House — Home & Roots

This house governs family, home, ancestry, and your private foundation — where you retreat and what you came from. The sign on this house's cusp is Aries, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Aries style — expressed directly and at speed — instinct first, refinement later, with real courage when it counts. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

5th House — Creativity & Joy

This house governs self-expression, romance, children, play, and what you make purely because it delights you. The sign on this house's cusp is Taurus, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Taurus style — expressed steadily and sensually — slow to start, remarkably hard to stop, loyal to what has proven itself. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

6th House — Work & Health

This house governs daily routines, service, health habits, and the craft of being useful. The sign on this house's cusp is Taurus, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Taurus style — expressed steadily and sensually — slow to start, remarkably hard to stop, loyal to what has proven itself. In your chart it holds Jupiter — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of that planet described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

7th House — Partnership

This house governs marriage, close partnerships, open rivals — the people who mirror you back to yourself. The sign on this house's cusp is Gemini, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Gemini style — expressed through words, variety, and quick connections — agile, curious, allergic to monotony. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

8th House — Depth & Shared Resources

This house governs intimacy, joint finances, crisis and regeneration — what's exchanged when trust is total. The sign on this house's cusp is Cancer, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Cancer style — expressed protectively and intuitively — led by feeling and memory, strongest when there's something to care for. In your chart it holds Moon — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of that planet described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

9th House — Belief & Horizon

This house governs philosophy, higher learning, long journeys, and the beliefs you steer by. The sign on this house's cusp is Leo, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Leo style — expressed warmly and visibly — with generosity, pride, and a need for the effort to be seen and appreciated. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

10th House — Career & Reputation

This house governs profession, public standing, ambition — what you're building where everyone can see it. The sign on this house's cusp is Libra, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Libra style — expressed relationally and gracefully — tuned to fairness, partnership, and keeping things in proportion. In your chart it holds Mercury, Venus — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of those planets described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

11th House — Community & Gains

This house governs friendships, networks, aspirations, and the rewards that arrive through other people. The sign on this house's cusp is Scorpio, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Scorpio style — expressed intensely and privately — all or nothing, with deep focus and a low tolerance for the superficial. In your chart it holds Sun, Pluto — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of those planets described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

12th House — Interior & Release

This house governs solitude, the subconscious, rest, endings, and what works behind the scenes of your life. The sign on this house's cusp is Scorpio, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Scorpio style — expressed intensely and privately — all or nothing, with deep focus and a low tolerance for the superficial. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

Major Aspects

Sun sextile Neptune

Your Sun and Neptune cooperate easily — a talent that shows up when you give it even modest effort.

Sun conjunction Pluto

Your Sun and Pluto fuse their agendas — these two functions operate as a single blended instinct in you.

Moon sextile Mercury

Your Moon and Mercury cooperate easily — a talent that shows up when you give it even modest effort.

Mercury sextile Uranus

Your Mercury and Uranus cooperate easily — a talent that shows up when you give it even modest effort.

Venus opposition Mars

Your Venus and Mars pull in opposite directions — a balance you negotiate rather than solve, often through relationships.

Venus trine Jupiter

Your Venus and Jupiter flow together naturally — an ease so native you may undervalue it.

Venus square Neptune

Your Venus and Neptune create productive friction — a recurring internal tension that, worked with honestly, becomes real strength.

Mars sextile Jupiter

Your Mars and Jupiter cooperate easily — a talent that shows up when you give it even modest effort.

Your Focus Areas

Focus: Personality

You asked this report to focus on personality — the architecture of who you are. The placements below are the load-bearing walls.

Your outer layer is Sagittarius rising, your core is a Scorpio Sun, and your emotional engine is a Leo Moon. Read together: the world first meets the Sagittarius in you, is then held (or challenged) by the Scorpio underneath, and the private weather is Leo. When these three feel at odds, it isn't inconsistency — it's layering, and self-knowledge is mostly learning which layer is speaking.

Focus: Growth

You asked this report to focus on growth. Every chart carries a growth edge — the places where effort compounds fastest. Here's where yours are.

Saturn marks the chart's main growth edge. Yours, in Sagittarius in the 1st house, points to the arena where life keeps setting the same exam until you pass it — and where passing it builds something nothing can take away.

Your Venus–Mars opposition: these two functions pull in opposite directions — a balance you negotiate rather than solve, often through relationships. Friction like this is the chart's gym equipment — resistance that builds strength when worked deliberately.

Your Venus–Saturn square: these two functions create productive friction — a recurring internal tension that, worked with honestly, becomes real strength. Friction like this is the chart's gym equipment — resistance that builds strength when worked deliberately.

Your Venus–Uranus square: these two functions create productive friction — a recurring internal tension that, worked with honestly, becomes real strength. Friction like this is the chart's gym equipment — resistance that builds strength when worked deliberately.

A Closing Word

A birth chart isn't a verdict, and nothing in this report is a prediction. Think of it as a well-made map of tendencies: where your energy flows easily, where it snags, and which efforts are likely to compound. Maps don't walk the road. You do. Use what resonated, test it against your lived experience, and discard anything that doesn't survive contact with your actual life — that's not a failure of the chart, it's you outgrowing a pattern, which is the point.

This report is for reflection and entertainment. It describes tendencies, not certainties, and makes no predictions about your future. Generated by Arvelos (arvelos.cloud) from Swiss Ephemeris calculations of your exact birth moment.
