

A R V E L O S

QA

VEDIC REPORT

Calculated individually from your birth details:

10 June 1975, 04:20 — Chennai, India

Taurus Rising · Taurus Sun · Taurus Moon

How to Read This Report

You don't need to know any astrology to read this report. A birth chart is a snapshot of the sky at the moment and place you were born: which zodiac sign each planet occupied, and which part of the sky (called a 'house') it sat in from your birthplace's point of view. Astrologers read planets as functions (how you love, think, act), signs as styles (how that function expresses itself), and houses as arenas (where in life it plays out). Everything that follows was calculated individually from your birth details — this is your sky, not a generic horoscope.

Your Chart

Reading Your Vedic Chart

Vedic astrology — Jyotish, 'the science of light' — uses the sidereal zodiac, anchored to the actual positions of the stars rather than the seasons. This report uses the Lahiri ayanamsa, the standard correction used across India, which is why your Vedic placements may differ from the Western signs you know. Neither system is 'wrong' — they measure from different starting points. Jyotish adds two lenses Western astrology doesn't use: your nakshatra (birth star), a finer 27-fold division of the sky, and the dasha system, a timeline of planetary periods that describes which themes are foregrounded in different chapters of life.

Your Birth Star — Mrigashira

Your janma nakshatra — the lunar mansion occupied by the Moon at your birth — is considered by many Jyotish practitioners to be more personally descriptive than the sun sign. There are 27 nakshatras, each spanning 13°20' of the sky, each with its own symbol, ruling deity, and temperament.

Yours is Mrigashira — symbol: a deer's head; ruled by Mars; pada 2.

Mrigashira is the searching nakshatra — the deer following a scent through the forest. It gives lifelong curiosity, restlessness, and a gentle, alert temperament that others find easy company. People born under it are seekers: of knowledge, of places, of the better version just over the ridge. Its lesson is recognizing when the search has become the habit — some of what you're looking for is found by staying still long enough to receive it.

Your Current Chapter — Saturn Mahadasha (until 2033-06)

The Vimshottari dasha system divides life into planetary chapters — major periods (mahadashas) ruled by each of the nine grahas, in a fixed sequence totalling 120 years, with your starting point set by the Moon's position at birth. A dasha doesn't make events happen; Jyotish reads it as which themes are foregrounded — which teacher is at the front of the classroom in this chapter of your life.

A Saturn mahadasha foregrounds structure, endurance, and the long game. This chapter tends to slow things down and test foundations — what's solid consolidates, what's hollow is revealed. Responsibility increases; shortcuts stop working. It is, by tradition, the great maturer: people often emerge from Saturn periods with their most durable achievements and their clearest sense of what actually matters. The counsel is simple: do the work, keep your word, rest properly.

Your full mahadasha timeline:

Mars: 1975-06 → 1980-06

Rahu: 1980-06 → 1998-06

Jupiter: 1998-06 → 2014-06

► Saturn: 2014-06 → 2033-06

Mercury: 2033-06 → 2050-06

Ketu: 2050-06 → 2057-06

Venus: 2057-06 → 2077-06

Sun: 2077-06 → 2083-06

Moon: 2083-06 → 2093-06

The Chapter After — Mercury Mahadasha (from 2033-06)

For orientation, here is the chapter that follows your current one. A Mercury mahadasha foregrounds intellect, communication, and commerce. This chapter tends to accelerate learning, writing, trade, and networks — ideas become assets. Wit sharpens and options multiply. It rewards skill-building and clear speech; its trap is scatter — Mercury opens many doors and closes none. The practice of this period is curation: choose which conversations, projects, and skills deserve the full mind. Knowing what's next isn't about bracing for it — it's about finishing the current chapter's work so the next one starts on solid ground.

Your Rising Sign — Taurus

With Taurus rising, you come across as calm, solid, and unhurried — people relax around you before you've said much. The first impression is reliability, and it's usually accurate. Your instinctive approach to anything new is to slow it down and check it's real. That patience is a genuine advantage; just notice when it becomes a polite way of refusing to start.

Your Sun — Taurus

Your Sun in Taurus describes an identity built on steadiness. You value what's real and tested — comfort, loyalty, work that produces something you can point to. People with this placement often become the person others lean on, precisely because you don't change direction with every new opinion in the room. The edge to watch: steadiness can shade into stubbornness. The skill is knowing which hills are actually worth holding.

Your Moon — Taurus

The Moon in Taurus is one of the steadiest emotional placements. You settle rooms just by being in them. Your feelings move slowly and honestly — you don't manufacture drama, and you don't recover from broken trust quickly either. What steadies you is the physical world: good food, familiar places, routines that don't change. Under stress, your instinct is to hold still; sometimes that's wisdom, sometimes it's just inertia. Knowing which is the skill.

Planetary Placements (Vedic / Sidereal, Lahiri)

Planet	Sign	Degree	House	Nakshatra
Sun	Taurus	25.0°	1st	Mrigashira
Moon	Taurus	27.1°	1st	Mrigashira
Mercury	Taurus	26.2°	1st	Mrigashira	R
Venus	Cancer	10.1°	3rd	Pushya
Mars	Pisces	21.1°	11th	Revati
Jupiter	Pisces	24.9°	11th	Revati
Saturn	Gemini	24.5°	2nd	Punarvasu
Rahu	Scorpio	6.6°	7th	Anuradha
Ketu	Taurus	6.6°	1st	Krittika

Mercury in Taurus

Mercury governs how you think and communicate — the way you learn, decide, and explain. In Taurus, this is expressed steadily and sensually — slow to start, remarkably hard to stop, loyal to what has proven itself. Placed in your 1st house (Self & Presence), it shapes how you come across and colors your whole approach to life. This planet was retrograde at your birth — its themes tend to be processed inwardly first, and mature later and more thoroughly than average. It occupies the nakshatra Mrigashira.

Venus in Cancer

Venus governs how you love and what you value — your style of affection, pleasure, and aesthetics. In Cancer, this is expressed protectively and intuitively — led by feeling and memory, strongest when there's something to care for. Placed in your 3rd house (Mind & Neighborhood), it shows up in how you speak, learn, and handle the everyday exchange of ideas. It occupies the nakshatra Pushya.

Mars in Pisces

Mars governs your drive and how you assert yourself — what energizes you and how you handle conflict. In Pisces, this is expressed fluidly and compassionately — through imagination and empathy, dissolving hard edges. Placed in your 11th house (Community & Gains), it moves through friends, networks, and the future you're collectively building. It occupies the nakshatra Revati.

Jupiter in Pisces

Jupiter governs where you grow and find opportunity — your sense of meaning, luck, and expansion. In Pisces, this is expressed fluidly and compassionately — through imagination and empathy, dissolving hard edges. Placed in your 11th house (Community & Gains), it moves through friends, networks, and the future you're collectively building. It occupies the nakshatra Revati.

Saturn in Gemini

Saturn governs where you meet discipline and responsibility — the area of life that matures you through effort. In Gemini, this is expressed through words, variety, and quick connections — agile, curious, allergic to monotony. Placed in your 2nd house (Resources & Worth), it plays out in how you earn, keep, and value things — including yourself. It occupies the nakshatra Punarvasu.

Rahu in Scorpio

Rahu governs your hunger for growth in this life — the unfamiliar territory you're drawn to master. In Scorpio, this is expressed intensely and privately — all or nothing, with deep focus and a low tolerance for the superficial. Placed in your 7th house (Partnership), it is most visible in your closest partnerships and what you seek in others. It occupies the nakshatra Anuradha.

Ketu in Taurus

Ketu governs your innate, already-mastered instincts — what you carry in effortlessly — and are learning to hold lightly. In Taurus, this is expressed steadily and sensually — slow to start, remarkably hard to stop, loyal to what has proven itself. Placed in your 1st house (Self & Presence), it shapes how you come across and colors your whole approach to life. It occupies the nakshatra Krittika.

House by House (Whole Sign)

1st House — Self & Presence

This house governs identity, appearance, and how you begin things — the front door of the chart. The sign on this house's cusp is Taurus, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Taurus style — expressed steadily and sensually — slow to start, remarkably hard to stop, loyal to what has proven itself. In your chart it holds Sun, Moon, Mercury, Ketu — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of those planets described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

2nd House — Resources & Worth

This house governs money, possessions, skills, and the quieter question of what you believe you're worth. The sign on this house's cusp is Gemini, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Gemini style — expressed through words, variety, and quick connections — agile, curious, allergic to monotony. In your chart it holds Saturn — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of that planet described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

3rd House — Mind & Neighborhood

This house governs communication, siblings, short journeys, and the daily traffic of ideas. The sign on this house's cusp is Cancer, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Cancer style — expressed protectively and intuitively — led by feeling and memory, strongest when there's something to care for. In your chart it holds Venus — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of that planet described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

4th House — Home & Roots

This house governs family, home, ancestry, and your private foundation — where you retreat and what you came from. The sign on this house's cusp is Leo, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Leo style — expressed warmly and visibly — with generosity, pride, and a need for the effort to be seen and appreciated. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

5th House — Creativity & Joy

This house governs self-expression, romance, children, play, and what you make purely because it delights you. The sign on this house's cusp is Virgo, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Virgo style — expressed precisely and helpfully — through analysis, craft, and steady improvement of whatever it touches. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

6th House — Work & Health

This house governs daily routines, service, health habits, and the craft of being useful. The sign on this house's cusp is Libra, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Libra style — expressed relationally and gracefully — tuned to fairness, partnership, and keeping things in proportion. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

7th House — Partnership

This house governs marriage, close partnerships, open rivals — the people who mirror you back to yourself. The sign on this house's cusp is Scorpio, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Scorpio style — expressed intensely and privately — all or nothing, with deep focus and a low tolerance for the superficial. In your chart it holds Rahu — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of that planet described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

8th House — Depth & Shared Resources

This house governs intimacy, joint finances, crisis and regeneration — what's exchanged when trust is total. The sign on this house's cusp is Sagittarius, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Sagittarius style — expressed expansively and candidly — aimed at meaning, freedom, and the biggest honest version of the truth. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

9th House — Belief & Horizon

This house governs philosophy, higher learning, long journeys, and the beliefs you steer by. The sign on this house's cusp is Capricorn, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Capricorn style — expressed patiently and strategically — built to last, measured in years, allergic to shortcuts. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

10th House — Career & Reputation

This house governs profession, public standing, ambition — what you're building where everyone can see it. The sign on this house's cusp is Aquarius, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Aquarius style — expressed independently and inventively — principled, systemic, and quietly unconventional. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

11th House — Community & Gains

This house governs friendships, networks, aspirations, and the rewards that arrive through other people. The sign on this house's cusp is Pisces, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Pisces style — expressed fluidly and compassionately — through imagination and empathy, dissolving hard edges. In your chart it holds Mars, Jupiter — this is an active arena for you, energized by the themes of those planets described above. Expect this part of life to demand — and reward — more of your attention than average.

12th House — Interior & Release

This house governs solitude, the subconscious, rest, endings, and what works behind the scenes of your life. The sign on this house's cusp is Aries, so this arena of your life tends to run in a Aries style — expressed directly and at speed — instinct first, refinement later, with real courage when it counts. No planets occupy it in your chart — which doesn't mean the area is empty in your life, only that it runs quietly on that cusp-sign style rather than being a major center of gravity.

Your Focus Areas

Focus: Growth

You asked this report to focus on growth. Every chart carries a growth edge — the places where effort compounds fastest. Here's where yours are.

Saturn marks the chart's main growth edge. Yours, in Gemini in the 2nd house, points to the arena where life keeps setting the same exam until you pass it — and where passing it builds something nothing can take away.

In the Vedic chart, growth is read on the Rahu–Ketu axis. Ketu in Taurus (1st house) marks what you already carry with ease; Rahu in Scorpio (7th house) marks the unfamiliar territory this life keeps pulling you toward. Growth, in this reading, is the deliberate walk from the first toward the second.

A Closing Word

A birth chart isn't a verdict, and nothing in this report is a prediction. Think of it as a well-made map of tendencies: where your energy flows easily, where it snags, and which efforts are likely to compound. Maps don't walk the road. You do. Use what resonated, test it against your lived experience, and discard anything that doesn't survive contact with your actual life — that's not a failure of the chart, it's you outgrowing a pattern, which is the point.

This report is for reflection and entertainment. It describes tendencies, not certainties, and makes no predictions about your future. Generated by Arvelos (arvelos.cloud) from Swiss Ephemeris calculations of your exact birth moment.